NOTE 1: SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Significant accounting policies

(a) Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised on the Fund's Statement of Financial Position when the Fund becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

(i) Measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are held at fair value through profit or loss.

Under this approach, financial assets and financial liabilities are generally measured initially at fair value excluding any transaction costs that are directly attributable to acquisition.

Subsequent to initial recognition, all financial instruments are measured at fair value with changes in their fair value recognized in the statement of comprehensive income.

Fair value in an active market

The fair value of financial assets and liabilities traded in active markets are based on their quoted market prices at the reporting date without any deduction for estimated future selling costs. Financial assets are priced at current bid prices on the reporting date, while financial liabilities are priced at current offer prices.

Fair value in an inactive or unquoted market

The fair values of financial assets and liabilities that are not traded in an active market are determined through the valuation policy identified in the Information Memorandum for the Fund.

(ii) Categorisation

The Fund's investments are categorised as follows:

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and demand deposits and other short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Financial liabilities and equity

Financial liabilities and equity instruments issued by the Fund are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument. The accounting policies adopted for specific financial liabilities and equity instruments are set out below:

Issued units

The Fund issues units which have a limited life under the Fund's Constitution and are classified as a liability in accordance with AASB 132 Financial Instruments: Presentation.

Where the Fund buys back any of its units from unitholders, the consideration paid, including any directly attributable incremental costs are recognised as a reduction in liability attributable to the Fund's unitholders.

Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown inclusive of GST, and accruals are shown exclusive of GST.

(c) Income tax

ACIF PROSPERITY FUND
APVEC UNIT CLASS
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2020

NOTE 14: FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT (continued)

(b) Derivative Risk

Derivatives can be highly sensitive to changes in market prices and involve higher levels of risk than the underlying asset. This greater risk is due to a lower capital outlay required to gain exposure to the relevant asset and for the same capital outlay potential losses and gains can significantly magnified. Prime Value has stated that they use derivatives for risk management purposes only and do not use derivatives to leverage the Fund.

(c) Counterparty Risk

Counterparty risk is the risk that the institution with which you have entered a financial contract (the counterparty) will default on an obligation and fail to fulfil their side of the contractual arrangements. The derivative contracts used to protect the portfolio are provided by a third party and there is a risk that the derivative counterparty will fail their contractual obligations. In the event of a default by the derivative counterparty, and depending on the value of the amounts owing, investors may lose a significant portion of their capital.

(d) Early Termination Risk

Derivative contracts are transacted in financial markets with standard early termination clauses to protect counterparties. These clauses give the right to terminate the derivative contracts before maturity in certain circumstances. These circumstances include events such as market disruption, changes in law, impossibility and hedging disruption
